

Medviso at CMR2018

Medviso will attend CMR2018 joint Scientific Sessions in Barcelona 31 January - 3 February 2018. You will find us as exhibitor in booth B4 and at the Face off session on Friday 18:05.

Meet with us

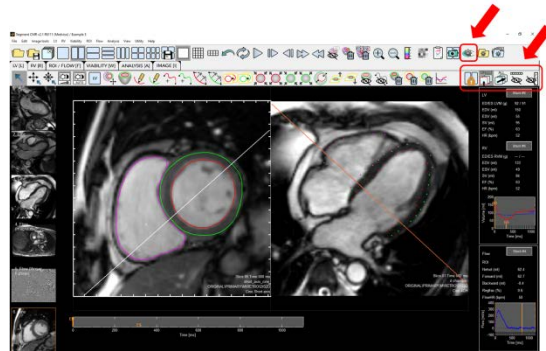

If you are attending CMR2018 come by our booth B4 and see the new features in Segment CMR. We are happy to discuss how to improve your workflow in Segment CMR or discuss any research questions you might have. We can also present our Strain analysis module that is available for both clinical use and research purposes.

Segment CMR news

We have continued working with the interface and usability of Segment CMR according to feedback from our users. In upper right corner of Segment CMR you now find tools for:

- Synchronising slice/frame steps between stacks
- Tools to hide panels to get larger drawing area
- Select Single frame or All frames mode
- In preferences define background color

We are always happy to help you improve your workflow in Segment CMR. If you are not attending CMR2018 you can book an online meeting with us by email support.
